Dear Parents

As you know we launched our new school values last term and we are keen to embed them into everyday school life. As a reminder, our values are:

- Being respectful
- Being kind
- Being curious
- Being resilient
- Being responsible
- Being determined

We have redesigned our assembly curriculum to ensure that each value is in focus for one term, to ensure that children develop a true understanding of each given value and how it can be displayed in a variety of situations. There will also be plenty of opportunity to discuss these values during class PSHE sessions.

As we mentioned to some of you last term, to help our younger ones truly understand the characteristics linked to these values, we would like to develop a family of 'superhero characters' where each superhero represents a value. These can then be displayed and promoted around the school to aid recognition and vocabulary.

We would like to ask the children to think about possible designs for these superheroes. The winning designs will be displayed around the school.

The superhero designs should be bright and colourful and, if possible, refer to their value on their clothing e.g. a cape.

Your child's design should be drawn on A4 white paper using coloured pencils or felt tips. Please can these be handed to the school office by Friday 18th October.

On the reverse of the design, please can you/your child write their name and their class.

Kind regards

Mrs Nikki Hill
Headteacher
