

Year 1 challenge 4th May

This Friday 8th May it will be the 75th Anniversary of VE Day. This is an important occasion to talk about and mark. We would have had a little playground party if we had been at school. So your challenge this week is to do something to commemorate VE Day. Here are some ideas but you may come up with your own!

Make some Union Jack bunting

Make some cakes and have an afternoon tea party at home. You could write the recipe for the cakes or cookies out and share it with someone else so that they can make them too.

Have a pretend (role play) afternoon tea party

Dress up in red, white and blue on Friday

Make a crown

Research your family history. What would members of your family have been doing during WW2 or/and on VE Day on 8th May 1945 ?

Send a letter or postcard to a family member who you can't visit at the moment. Draw a picture and tell them what you will be doing on Friday for VE Day or tell them what you have found out about your family.

Attached are a few useful resources about VE Day.

We would love to see a photo of how you decide to commemorate VE Day. Email us as yellow@nauntonpark.gloucs.sch.uk or orange@nauntonpark.gloucs.sch.uk.
